Our Vision

Through our Annual Campaign (Campaign), Federation raises and allocates funds to provide life-saving and life-enhancing humanitarian assistance to those in need, including seniors, the disabled, the unemployed, and other individuals and families. Federation also works to translate Jewish values into social action and to provide avenues for Jewish education, engagement, and enrichment.

The Annual Campaign and Challenge Fund are not the only support from Federation that our constituent agencies receive. Local agencies also receive significant support from other funds raised by Federation, or held by the United Jewish Foundation, and invested on behalf of Federation constituent agencies. This support includes state and other grants, agency endowment distributions, programming endowments, Millennium and other Federation funds, Centennial Funds, and distributions from the Foundation for Our Jewish Elderly. (Please see Attachment IV following the Allocation Tables.)

Locally, Federation supports a family of 17 Jewish agencies and schools across Metropolitan Detroit. Working with its global partners, Federation also impacts the lives of thousands of Jews throughout Israel, in the former Soviet Union, and in 70 countries around the world.

Federation is the heart and soul of our community’s philanthropic and humanitarian activities. It builds and strengthens Jewish community. Federation is the one place that belongs to every Jew; the place where philanthropy, volunteerism, and shared commitment come together to make a difference, to repair the world.

There are many doors to enter Federation and many ways to contribute and participate in our vital work. Each person can choose to enter through his or her own door, be that via hands-on volunteerism with one of our constituent agencies, a contribution to Federation, helping to raise money on behalf of the community, or one of many other avenues. Federation welcomes everyone and hopes that, if they haven’t already, they will become involved in ensuring the present and future of our Jewish community.

Federation 2018

Federation’s leadership, staff, and generous donors are addressing the challenges around us. We are a community that cares. This year, our community is projected to raise $32,200,000 for the Annual Campaign and $3,616,106 for the Pappas Family Challenge Fund, a remarkable achievement. These funds will help us address our community priorities:

1. Ensuring that there is a safety net of services for those in need in our community, in Israel, and in Jewish communities around the world.
2. Providing a Jewish education for our children and a myriad of Jewish experiences to strengthen their Jewish identity.
3. Attracting and retaining our young adults and connecting them to the Jewish community.
4. Helping our older adults maintain their independence and live with dignity.
5. Supporting our community’s infrastructure.
6. Ensuring and maintaining the future vitality of our Jewish community.

In furtherance of our goals, we continue to emphasize and support the following:

1. Our Annual Campaign: By working together as a community, 11,350 donors contributed to the Annual Campaign last year. Our goal this year is to increase the number of donors who contribute to the Campaign and also increase the number of donors who continue to contribute year after year.

2. Providing Assistance to Jews in Need: We continue to work together as a community to provide assistance to our communal members in financial distress and to connect them to the job opportunities and training that they need to return to self-sufficiency. This year, our efforts:
   a. Helped Jewish Family Service provide approximately 545 individuals and families in crisis in our community with emergency financial assistance and case management.
   b. Helped Jewish Senior Life and Jewish Family Service provide in-home support services to 750 older adults, enabling them to remain living at home.
   c. Provided scholarship support for the day schools to help make a Jewish education possible for 1,773 students (69% of day school students) in need of financial assistance.
   d. Helped provide Jewish Family Service with staff to respond to 8,939 intake calls from community members in distress or just needing information.
   e. Helped JVS provide employment services to more than 4,068 members of the Jewish community.
   f. Provided the congregational schools with more than $400,000 in scholarship support.
   g. Helped the Jewish Community Center and Tamarack Camps provide approximately $1.17 million in Jewish camp scholarships.
   h. Helped Jewish Family Service provide 559 Holocaust survivors with case management, indemnification services, and home care assistance.
   i. Helped Hebrew Free Loan provide 1,081 loans for living expenses, mortgage and rent assistance, vocational training, educational expenses, and additional vital needs.
   j. Helped the campus Hillels (Michigan State University Hillel, Michigan Hillel at the University of Michigan, Hillel of Metropolitan Detroit, and the Hillel Campus Alliance of Michigan) to serve 6,700+ Jewish students.

3. NEXTGen Detroit: To attract, retain, and engage young Jewish adults in Metropolitan Detroit and connect them to Federation, we continue to invest in NEXTGen Detroit. Since its inception, NEXTGen Detroit has grown Federation’s young adult engagement from 1,500 to more than 5,000 participants and from 1,000 to 3,200 donors, while emerging as a national model studied and replicated across North America. Dozens of communities have visited Detroit to learn from our success. This year, NEXTGen Detroit raised 19% more for the Annual Campaign than it did the previous year. One of NEXTGen’s significant accomplishments included a record number of attendees and money raised at EPIC. More than 550 people attended the event, which raised more than $305,000 for the Annual Campaign, a $90,000 increase over last year’s event. In addition, NEXTGen continues to engage young adults in our community, who would otherwise be unaffiliated, through programs like NEXTGen Detroit Pride (a program for the LGBTQ community) and NEXTGen Detroit Interfaith Couples.

4. Centennial Fund: Six years ago, we launched the Centennial Fund to raise $250 million in new endowments that will ensure we will be able to meet the growing needs for social services and Jewish identity development programs in the future. To date, approximately $211 million has been pledged to the Centennial Fund. Although many gifts are testamentary, roughly 50% are lifetime gifts and are currently providing funding for important community services. These funds are needed to secure the future of our local Jewish community and strengthen the lives of Jews in Israel and around the world. Centennial Fund dollars target four broad areas of interest:
   a. Social Welfare – Support for the Foundation for Our Jewish Elderly and other vulnerable populations, including children and at-risk families.
   b. Jewish Identity and Education – Support for a progression of Jewish life experiences from day schools to congregational schools, from day care to camping, from BBYO and the Hillels on our college campuses to Community Birthright Israel.
   c. Global Jewish Responsibility – Continue Detroit’s leadership role in helping at-risk Jews and building strong Jewish peoplehood in Israel and around the Jewish world.
   d. PACE and Legacy Funds – Fund both PACE, our Perpetual Annual Campaign Endowment, and Legacy, our ongoing effort to raise unrestricted dollars to care for the community in times of emergency.

   d. PACE and Legacy Funds – Fund both PACE, our Perpetual Annual Campaign Endowment, and Legacy, our ongoing effort to raise unrestricted dollars to care for the community in times of emergency.
5. Revenue Diversification: Through the efforts of our community grant writers, Federation successfully increased revenue for various agencies in FY 2017-18 by securing $1,547,087 in grants, with an additional $775,325 in requests still pending. Since the grant writers began six years ago, their achievement is more than $17.5 million on behalf of our agencies.

Ensuring a Safety Net for Our Community

Although there has been improvement in the economy, economic security remains elusive for many community members. Assistance is now available through JHELP, a coordinated approach among the Jewish communal agencies to address the needs of families and individuals in crisis. In an effort to make getting help as easy and efficient as possible, Federation spearheaded the development and launch of JHELP.org last year. This website allows community members to browse available programs and services or connect with the Jewish Family Service Resource Center via phone, chat, email, or by scheduling an appointment.

Multicultural Integration Funding Grant

The 2018 State of Michigan Multicultural Integration Funding grant to Federation was increased to $3.5 million from the Department of Health and Human Services. These funds help us to support mental health and social welfare services provided by our Jewish communal agencies to vulnerable populations. This funding helps replace discontinued funding from the United Way, the government, and private foundations. This remarkable achievement was due to the efforts of the Government Relations Oversight Committee (GROC), chaired by Ron Klein and Josh Oppenheimer, and to the extraordinary assistance of Dennis Bernard and Evan Weiner, previous GROC Co-Chairs, and Sandi Jones and Jon Smalley, Federation’s lobbyists with Muchmore, Harrington, Smalley and Associates in Lansing. GROC continues its joint state government advocacy efforts with our Arab partners, ACCESS and ACC, to maintain the grant and hopefully increase it for FY 2019.

Allocations Impact Model (AIM)

As the central philanthropic organization in the Jewish community, it is important that the Federation and its agencies demonstrate to donors that the funds raised and allocated are having a significant positive impact in the community and that donor investments in our community are making a measurable difference.

Last year, the Federation continued its implementation of the Allocations Impact Model (AIM), which provides our agencies with measurement tools and a consultant to work with them so that they can better demonstrate their impact. The agencies and Federation, as well as the Jewish community at large, are benefitting from this initiative. The impact-based allocation process:

1. Partners the agencies with the planning divisions and together they help the agencies build capacity and demonstrate their impact.
2. Helps the agencies develop better data about their programs, deliver greater benefits to those they serve, become more efficient, be better able to respond to grant opportunities, and raise more money because they can demonstrate their programs’ value and impact to the community.
3. Helps Federation and its constituent agencies to more effectively tell their stories to donors by highlighting not only what agencies are doing, but also by quantifying their impact. Donors will be able to more easily learn what difference their contributions are making in the community.
4. Rewards agencies with additional funding, when available, if they run quantifiable and impactful programs.
5. Strengthens our agency accountability system.

Federation engaged Professor Sue Ann Savas from the Curtis Center Program Evaluation Group at the University of Michigan’s School of Social Work to work with the agencies on this project. Professor Savas and her team continue to meet individually with each agency and work with them to strengthen their data collection processes, conduct focus groups, and set their yearly metrics.

Youth Mental Health Initiative

In late 2016, Jewish Federation and The Jewish Fund partnered with Morpace, Inc., a global research firm, to conduct a robust, community-wide health and social welfare needs assessment. This study sought to help Federation and The Jewish Fund understand the primary health and social welfare needs of the local Jewish community from the perspective of both community members and agency leaders. The goal was to gather input so that community planning and funding decisions would be based on data, not assumptions.

While much of what was learned through the 2016 Jewish Community Health and Social Welfare Needs Assessment confirmed what was thought to be true, information gathered about the state of our youth’s mental health was chilling. More than half of the youth who responded to the survey indicated that they, or someone they know, struggle with anxiety while just less than half are struggling with sadness, depression, and low self-esteem.

After the community study was completed, Federation assembled a Youth Mental Health Workgroup (Workgroup) – comprised of agency professionals, clergy, synagogue staff, and mental health professionals – to develop a community plan that would address the youth mental health crisis. The group reviewed mental health related literature; studied community mental health models in Australia, England, and Canada; spoke with local and national mental health experts at relevant foundations, Stanford and the University of Michigan; held youth panels; and spoke with reporters who have been increasing public awareness about youth mental health. Last year, the Workgroup completed its plan, which is focused on three important pillars:

1. Education and Awareness Activities – Includes school and community-based events that will help raise awareness of the youth mental health crisis and decrease stigma.
2. Suicide Prevention Training – Consists of providing suicide awareness and prevention training programs for each of the 850+ professionals in Jewish Detroit who regularly engage with youth from fourth grade through high school.
3. Interventional Support – This means ensuring that schools have the correct number of social workers for their school size, each professional has appropriate training, and that social service agencies have therapists and psychiatrists available to serve youth.
5. Revenue Diversification: Through the efforts of our community grant writers, Federation successfully increased revenue for various agencies in FY 2017-18 by securing $1,547,087 in grants, with an additional $775,325 in requests still pending. 1. Suicide awareness and prevention training for Jewish Day Schools, BBYO, and others has begun.
2. A new website that includes videos of youth telling their stories, tools and resources for community members, and crisis information is now available in the community.
3. Local consultant Julie Fisher has been engaged to help the schools develop customized mental health-related programming plans.
4. Rabbi Jeremy Baruch and Rabbi Rachel Shere are working on a B’nai Mitzvah enhancement program called “Raise The Bar” – available to all synagogues – that will help teach students and parents engaged in preparing for a Bar or Bat Mitzvah positive mental health skills.

Leveraging Technology for the Betterment of our Jewish Community

Federation is moving towards development of a new comprehensive communications/service concept for the Jewish community. Whether one thinks of Amazon, United Way’s 211, or any other powerful aggregator, it benefits the consumer by removing multiple steps between them and the services/programs they need. Federation is working to remove the burden of sorting through multiple overlapping organizations, with differing intake mechanisms, all underfunded for marketing and online optimization. To help do this, Federation will maximize and transform its powerful marketing tool, jewishdetroit.org, which is a community-wide platform that aggregates and delivers a wide range of programs and services throughout Metropolitan Detroit. The plan is for jewishdetroit.org to provide seamless access and an optimized customer experience for those seeking assistance and services, and/or who want to learn, connect and engage with the Jewish community. Federation has already launched JHELP, a tool for Jewish education and engagement programs.

PLANNING AND ALLOCATIONS

Planning and Allocations Steering Committee (PASC)

The Planning and Allocations Steering Committee (PASC) makes allocation recommendations to the Federation Board of Governors for local, national and Israeli and overseas agencies. The PASC coordinates and monitors all of Federation’s planning and agency relations and activities. Members of the PASC include:

1. Immediate past PASC Chair
2. Current Planning Division Chairs and Associate Chairs
3. Annual Campaign Co-Chairs
4. Representatives of the United Jewish Foundation
5. Chairs of the Israel and Overseas Committee, Real Estate Committee, Capital Needs Committee, and the National Agencies Council

A special thank you to all the PASC members, the Israel and Overseas Committee, the Planning Divisions, and professional staff for all their efforts, hard work, and creative thinking this year in addressing the challenging issues confronting our Jewish community.

Planning Divisions

All constituent agencies are assigned to one of two planning divisions (Divisions). The Community Services Division includes the social welfare and advocacy agencies: Hebrew Free Loan, Jewish Community Relations Council/American Jewish Committee, Jewish Family Service, Jewish Senior Life, and JVS. The Jewish Education and Identity Division integrates formal and informal Jewish education services for planning and allocations. This division includes the day schools, congregational schools, BBYO, Tamarack Camps, the Jewish Community Center, and the campus Hillels.

The Planning Divisions serve as the primary liaison between the Federation and its constituent agencies. They provide program and fiscal oversight and help to ensure that Federation dollars are spent wisely, for the purposes they were intended and in accordance with Federation’s and the agencies’ missions. The divisions work closely with Federation’s Director of Business Practices who assists with this process and helps ensure that the agencies have sound fiscal management.

In addition, the planning divisions address agency and communal issues when they arise. The planning divisions also make recommendations for annual allocations to each local agency. They do this based on meetings over the course of the year with each of the agencies and a review of each agency’s budget and financial statements.

When making local agency allocation recommendations, the planning divisions take into account the needs of the agencies in their divisions in the context of core community impact areas and priorities. The divisions view allocation decisions from a global/community perspective, not just from an individual agency perspective. They also ensure that allocation decisions, particularly if decreases are made, do not undermine the integrity of an agency’s operations, mission, and programs.

Allocations Process

The FY 2018-19 allocation recommendations of the PASC comply with the allocation principles established by the Federation and Foundation Boards:

1. Expenditures may not exceed revenue.
2. A baseline amount of unrestricted reserves must be maintained.
3. Donor, legal, and contractual commitments must be fulfilled.
4. General Fund reserves should not be used to support allocations or annual Federation operations.

ALLOCATIONS

The Board of Governors approved Campaign and Challenge Fund allocation parameters in April. These were based on a projected 2018 Campaign achievement of $32,200,000, which is $400,000 more than the 2017 Campaign achievement. The 2018 approved Challenge Fund parameter was $3,470,000. The allocation tables reflect additional dollars that were raised since then.
Thanks to the generosity of The Jewish Fund, the Pappas Family Challenge Fund, the Hermelin-Davidson Center for Congregational Excellence, the Deutsch Fund, the D. Dan & Betty Kahn Foundation, Howard and Jean Dubin, and other private donors, progress is already being made:

1. Suicide awareness and prevention training for Jewish Day Schools, BBYO, and others has begun.

2. A new website that includes videos of youth telling their stories, tools and resources for community members, and crisis information is now available in the community.

3. Local consultant Julie Fisher has been engaged to help the schools develop customized mental health-related programming plans.

4. Rabbi Jeremy Baruch and Rabbi Rachel Shere are working on a B’nai Mitzvah enhancement program called “Raise The Bar” – available to all synagogues – that will help teach students and parents engaged in preparing for a Bar or Bat Mitzvah positive mental health skills.

PLANNING AND ALLOCATIONS

Planning and Allocations Steering Committee (PASC)

The Planning and Allocations Steering Committee (PASC) makes allocation recommendations to the Federation Board of Governors for local, national and Israeli and overseas agencies. The PASC coordinates and monitors all of Federation’s planning and agency relations and activities. Members of the PASC include:

1. Immediate past PASC Chair
2. Current Planning Division Chairs and Associate Chairs
3. Annual Campaign Co-Chairs
4. Representatives of the United Jewish Foundation
5. Chairs of the Israel and Overseas Committee, Real Estate Committee, Capital Needs Committee, and the National Agencies Council

A special thank you to all the PASC members, the Israel and Overseas Committee, the Planning Divisions, and professional staff for all their efforts, hard work, and creative thinking this year in addressing the challenging issues confronting our Jewish community.

Planning Divisions

All constituent agencies are assigned to one of two planning divisions (Divisions). The Community Services Division includes the social welfare and advocacy agencies: Hebrew Free Loan, Jewish Community Relations Council/American Jewish Committee, Jewish Family Service, Jewish Senior Life, and JVS. The Jewish Education and Identity Division integrates formal and informal Jewish education services for planning and allocations. This division includes the day schools, congregational schools, BBYO, TamraCamps, the Jewish Community Center, and the campus Hillels.

The Planning Divisions serve as the primary liaison between the Federation and its constituent agencies. They provide program and fiscal oversight and help to ensure that Federation dollars are spent wisely, for the purposes they were intended and in accordance with Federation’s and the agencies’ missions. The divisions work closely with Federation’s Director of Business Practices who assists with this process and helps ensure that the agencies have sound fiscal management.

In addition, the planning divisions address agency and communal issues when they arise. The planning divisions also make recommendations for annual allocations to each local agency. They do this based on meetings over the course of the year with each of the agencies and a review of each agency’s budget and financial statements.

When making local agency allocation recommendations, the planning divisions take into account the needs of the agencies in their divisions in the context of core community impact areas and priorities. The divisions view allocation decisions from a global/communal perspective, not just from an individual agency perspective. They also ensure that allocation decisions, particularly if decreases are made, do not undermine the integrity of an agency’s operations, mission, and programs.

Allocations Process

The FY 2018-19 allocation recommendations of the PASC comply with the allocation principles established by the Federation and Foundation Boards:

1. Expenditures may not exceed revenue.
2. A baseline amount of unrestricted reserves must be maintained.
3. Donor, legal, and contractual commitments must be fulfilled.
4. General Fund reserves should not be used to support allocations or annual Federation operations.

ALLOCATIONS

The Board of Governors approved Campaign and Challenge Fund allocation parameters in April. These were based on a projected 2018 Campaign achievement of $32,200,000, which is $400,000 more than the 2017 Campaign achievement. The 2018 approved Challenge Fund parameter was $3,470,000. The allocation tables reflect additional dollars that were raised since then.
During FY 2016-17 and FY 2017-18, the Federation and Foundation invested approximately $10 million to repair our agencies’ infrastructure to address health, safety, and building critical issues. In addition, Federation continues to invest approximately $500,000 annually in security to ensure the safety of our children and those using community facilities.

Based on community priorities, the PASC determined overall planning division allocation parameters for FY 2018-19. Planning divisions determined the specific allocations for local agencies, and the Israel and Overseas Committee determined the allocations for Israeli and overseas agencies.

The proposed allocations for FY 2018-19 of $35,453,606 are based upon the following assumptions:

1. A 2018 Campaign achievement of $32,200,000 from the Annual Campaign plus $3,616,106 from the Pappas Family Challenge Fund.
2. A shrinkage factor of ($862,500). The percentage is 2.5% based on collections and the Finance Committee’s recommendation.
3. Prior year’s overachievement of $500,000.

The allocations report includes the allocations from the Annual Campaign and the Challenge Fund. The Challenge Fund allocations to local agencies consist of the following three types of grants:

1. General Grants: These are Challenge Fund dollars that have been historically added to the funds given to the agencies as part of their Campaign Allocation.
2. Donor Designations: These grants are given in accordance with the explicit instructions of donors to the Challenge Fund.
3. Challenge Fund Special Grants: When there are sufficient unrestricted Challenge Fund dollars above those needed for general grants, these grants are given to address high priority needs that cannot be handled by the normal Campaign allocation. There will be no special grants in FY 2018-19.

Local Allocations

The PASC recommends an overall local allocation of $24,933,014 to support services and programs provided through 17 local agencies and Federation. This amount is comprised of $21,601,908 from the Annual Campaign and $3,331,106 from the Challenge Fund, which includes donor designations of $1,696,106 and general base allocations of $1,635,000.

Local allocations include:

1. $7,149,104 for Jewish Education and Identity. To create more equity in allocations to day schools, starting with FY 2017-18, the Jewish Education & Identity Division began phasing in a new formula for day school allocations in which by year four, 50% would be based on the percentage of a school’s enrollment of the total day school enrollment and 50% based on schools’ needs. FY 2017-18 allocations were based 20% on the percentage of a school’s enrollment of the total FY 2016-17 day school enrollment and 80% based on schools’ needs.

The decision was also made that this new process would be evaluated annually and may be modified depending on the findings. After evaluating the impact in FY 2017-18, the Division found that following the phase-in schedule at the current time would create serious financial issues for some schools due to the large differences in enrollments.

Since all the schools have a vital role in our community, the Division felt that it was important to look at the funding formula not only from individual school perspectives, but also from a total community perspective. While the goal will be to continue to increase funding based on per capita, it will not be at the pace originally proposed. In FY 2018-19, 20% will be based on the percentage of a school’s enrollment of the total day school enrollment in FY 2017-18, with the remainder based on schools’ needs. In order to mitigate the negative effect of this funding formula on specific schools, additional funding from funds for day schools secured beyond the Annual Campaign will be used to maintain these schools’ allocation at FY 2017-18 levels.

2. $5,614,177 for community services.
3. $12,169,733 for additional local support to fund Federation’s operating budget and additional support services for the agencies:
   a. $1,200,000 for the Capital Needs Reserve, which provides grants to local agencies for equipment replacements and facility repairs.
   b. $353,075 for community security needs.
   c. $4,000,000 for rent grants to the agencies occupying space owned by the United Jewish Foundation (UJF). Each agency occupying space owned by the United Jewish Foundation is required to pay the fair market value of the rent. In turn, Federation is providing an allocation to the agencies to pay this rent. UJF will then give Federation an allocation for the amount of the rent collected. (There are no cash exchange implications.) This process creates greater financial transparency.
   d. $6,616,658 for services and endowment fund matching grants that provide support to local agencies and programs. These funds also contribute to Campaign expenses, some designations, and the Federation operating budget. A portion of Federation’s operating budget supported fundraising efforts for FYE 5/31/18 of approximately $42.7 million (as of 3/18) beyond the Annual Campaign to assist local agencies and programs.

National Allocations

$1,610,768 is recommended to support Birthright Israel, eight national agencies and programs, and Detroit’s “Fair Share” support of the Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA).

A significant change in the way allocations are made to national agencies is the result of a transition in the National Federation Alliance, an entity organized through the Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA), which for many years has pooled together support from participating Federations, to support critical services provided through national agencies. In recent years there have been a number of changes to the landscape of the Federations’ support to national agencies. Many have opted to fund those agencies directly, and withdraw their support through the National Federation Alliance. Alliance. There have also been several new national agencies, which arguably should have been eligible to receive funds through the Alliance. As a result, the participating Federations decided early in 2018 that a re-organization of the National Alliance should be undertaken. In the interim, each Federation will determine its own distribution to these organizations and projects. This resulted in our Federation reducing allocations to national agencies previously funded directly by the National Federation Alliance by $35,005.

Israel and Overseas Allocations

The Israel and Overseas Committee (IOC) recommends $8,909,824 to support programs and services provided through the Federation’s overseas agencies. From this amount, $8,167,130 is from the 2018 Campaign for support of core and elective allocations. $236,000 is donor designated contributions (given through the Susie and Norm Papas Challenge Fund for specific programs) and $506,694 is contributed from the Federation’s operating budget to support its mission programs and exchanges, and its activities administered through its department’s offices in Detroit, in Jerusalem, and its Partnership Region in the Central Galilee.

Historically, Federation has played a leadership role in advocating on behalf of world Jewry, and addressing the needs of Jews living in Israel and around the world. Detroit’s global connection to world Jewry is one of its unique characteristics, and one of its most attractive features to engage local participation in the Federation’s work.

While it is true that Israel’s economic conditions have improved in recent years, the rise in living standards has not been enjoyed by everyone, particularly among new immigrants and the country’s Haredi, Ethiopian Israeli and Arab populations. Although poverty rates have declined in recent years, one out of every five Israeli families lives below the poverty line, which is among the highest rates compared to other developed countries around the world. One in five working age Israelis is not part of the labor market. The peripheries of the country, including areas such as Detroit’s Partnership communities in the Central Galilee, are disproportionately affected.

Federation’s overseas allocations help address needs, which often mirror those that exist in the local Detroit Jewish community. They target those who are the most vulnerable, primarily the elderly, youth, and families at-risk, new immigrant populations, and other disenfranchised groups.

Two years following the conflict in Ukraine, a shaky ceasefire is in place. However, poor economic conditions and rampant inflation continue to exist. Federation's funding in Kiev provides home care, food support, medical care, and winter relief to 16,000 individuals. This is in addition to the support provided through Federation’s “core” funding, given collectively with other Federations, serving more than 150,000 older adults throughout the Former Soviet Union.

An increased focus over the past few years has been on creating a path to employment for the Haredi population, which makes up approximately 12% of the Israeli population. Together with Israeli Arabs, they constitute the fastest growing portion of Israel’s population. Federation is in its third year of helping to pilot an initiative supported through the American Joint Distribution Committee’s (JDC’s) Hanoch program, targeting young Haredi men ages 17-22. The goal of the pilot was to offer, over a three-year period, an alternate path for approximately 1,400 young Haredi men, who are not well suited to a life of study. The program enables these young men from approximately 20 yeshivot to earn a living for themselves and their families, and to break out of a cycle of poverty.

Hanoch offers them additional education in core subjects and gives them the tools and access to acquire vocational skills, to pursue advanced education, and to obtain higher paying jobs. Hanoch’s progress thus far has exceeded the goals set out through the pilot stage, having registered 1,500 young men from 27 different yeshivot. Ninety-three percent of those entering the program complete it, go on to work in apprenticeships, and enroll in higher education. A number have entered into the Israel Defense Forces (IDF). As a result of this process, the Israeli government has contracted with the JDC to continue administering the program, increasing its funding support from paying 50% of the costs to 75%.

There are currently 144,000 Ethiopian Jews in Israel, the vast majority of whom are under the age of 40. Eighty-five thousand five hundred were born in Ethiopia. As a segment of Israeli society, Ethiopian Israelis face significant challenges. Most of the parents are illiterate, even in their native language of Amharic. Most households are low income, requiring both parents to work. The children often fall behind in school, falling into the lowest educational tracks. This even happens to those who are second generation Ethiopian-Israelis. The culture of poverty is persistent, and ultimately children do not have the confidence that they need to succeed.

The IOC is recommending funding support of the Ethiopian National Project’s School Performance and Community Empowerment Program (SPACE). The intent of the SPACE program is to narrow the scholastic gap between Ethiopian Israelis and their Israeli born peers and to help them score better on their high school matriculation exams. There are currently 8,729 children nationwide who have been assessed as being eligible for the SPACE Program, 160 of whom live in Detroit’s Partnership Region. As part of the program, children receive four hours of tutorial and counseling support weekly, meeting in groups of four to nine. They also receive a hot lunch. The program has made a significant impact with 74% of the SPACE participants achieving matriculation, compared with the national average of 69% and 52% of those Ethiopian-Israelis who did not participate in the program. The Israeli government has made a commitment to match each private dollar contributed over the next four years, up to $18 million.

An added dimension of Detroit’s support in Israel is the potential for how funded programs create opportunities to engage Detroit participation. A second year’s allocation is being recommended to support the engagement and education work being performed through Detroit’s Community Shalicha, trained by the Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI). The Shalicha brings a personal Israeli presence to the community, and deepens Detroiters’ understanding and connection to Israel. Her initial year has been focused on building bridges with various community constituencies, including students on college campuses, Israeli Detroiters, Russian speakers, and various Orthodox groups, in addition to working with many of the Federation’s agencies and area synagogues.

The overseas allocation also continues to support other activities which link the Detroit Jewish community to Israel and encourage community involvement. Those most prominent are Partnership 2Gether, the Israeli Camper Program with Tamarack and the “Mifgash” (Israeli participants) on our Birthright and Teen Missions. In recent years, the IOC has recommended funding for programs that attempt to foster connections between young adults, both in our Partnership Region and in the city of Lod.

Lod has long been troubled as a center of political corruption, crime, and ethnic tension, and is re-emerging through a resurgence, led largely by young adults, who are motivated by both their feelings of political justice and their personal desires to find more affordable living conditions. This trend closely parallels what has been seen in the city of Detroit in recent years. The Federation is supporting a framework, “Better Together,” which is organizing these groups, working together with a new mayor and the Lod municipality to address the needs of the city’s multi-ethnic population, re-vitalize two of its neighborhoods and create a safe and appealing environment for children and youth.

The Federation always attempts to be strategic with its resources, creating partnerships with both the program providers, with local municipalities, and with area residents. The Israeli government and its funding mechanisms are frequently bureaucratic and often politicized. Federation allocations are used to help fill the gaps and to incubate new approaches, ultimately leading to systemic change. Examples in past years have included: PACT-Netanya, Youth Futures and Hanoch, to name only a few.

The IOC utilizes the following criteria in recommending its grants and allocations:

1. Grants should be coordinated with other government and private funding, with priority given to programs that leverage other funding support. While the amount varies from program to program, on average Federation leverages an additional $4 for every $1 it allocates.

2. Funded programs must have a business plan, including an “exit strategy” for Detroit’s funding and a plan to sustain support once it ends.

3. Each program should have identified and measurable goals.

Campaign allocations are broken down into three categories, other than the Challenge Fund, which has been designated by donors to support specific programs:

1. “Core” unrestricted allocations, which are Detroit’s portion of its collective responsibility with all North American Federations to support basic overseas needs addressed through its major overseas agencies: the Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI) the American Joint Distribution Committee (JDC), and World ORT. These agencies support Jewish communities in 70 countries worldwide. They are the first on the scene during an emergency, and often provide the infrastructure for communities to develop their own programs and services as well. They also connect Jewish communities to one another, to Israel, and to the global Jewish world.

2. “Elective” programs, which are community designated projects.

3. The Federation’s operating budget, which in addition to funding its Israel and Overseas Department’s offices and programs, supports missions and exchanges to Israel and to other overseas Jewish communities worldwide.

NOTES

1. Shrinkage allowance of 2.5%, determined by Federation's Finance Committee, based on pledges for the Annual Campaign and Challenge Fund.

2. Includes Federation's operating budget (support services and direct program costs) and other local support for agencies.

4. Amount contributed from Federation operating budget to operate Israeli offices in Detroit and Jerusalem.

5. The National Federation Alliance will be recognized in FY 2018-19. In the interim, participating Federations are determining their own allocations for FY 2018-19 to individual agencies.

6. Challenge Fund allocations include: 1) General Grants given to the agencies historically as part of their Campaign allocations; 2) Donor Designations given in accordance with the explicit Instructions of donors; and 3) Special Grants given to address high priority needs that cannot be handled by the normal Campaign allocation. There are no Special Grants for FY 2018-19. Please see Tables I and II for the breakdown of Challenge Fund allocations.

7. Due to a generous contribution, Franklin Jewish Academy has been able to meet their financial strategic plan for FY 2018-19, allowing funds to be redirected toward vital community needs.

To create more equity in allocations to day schools, starting with FY 2017-18, the Jewish Education & Identity Division began phasing in a new formula for day school allocations in which by year four, 50% would be based on the percentage of a school's enrollment of the total day school enrollment and 50% based on schools' needs. FY 2017-18 allocations were based 20% on the percentage of a school's enrollment of the total FY 2016-17 day school enrollment and 80% based on schools' needs. The decision was also made that this new process would be evaluated annually and may be modified depending on the findings. After evaluating the impact in FY 2017-18, the Division found that following the phase-in schedule at the current time would create serious financial issues for some schools due to the large differences in enrollments. Since all the schools have a vital role in our community, the Division felt that it was important to look at the funding formula not only from individual school perspectives, but also from a total community perspective. While the goal will be to continue to increase funding based on per capita, it will not be at the pace originally proposed. In FY 2018-19, 20% will be based on the percentage of a school's enrollment of the total day school enrollment in FY 2017-18 with the remainder based on schools' needs. In order to mitigate the negative effect of this formula on specific schools, additional funding from funds for day schools secured beyond the Annual Campaign will be used to maintain these schools' allocations at FY 2017-18 levels.

8. Distribution to be decided at a later date based on specific schools' needs.

9. Additional allocations for high priority community programs: programming/staffing for campus Hillel/HCC/BBYO, loans, community relations, JSL kosher food program, programs for adults with disabilities, support for youth mental health, and HELP staffing.

10. Allocation includes commitment made by Federation for assistance with Tamark/JCC day camp agreement and some funds for CDC scholarships.

11. Allocation to the Jewish Community Center for the support of its Education Department, previously part of Federation.

12. Distribution to the Foundation for Our Jewish Eldery to support in-home support services, escorted transportation, and adult day care.

13. Costs related to Federation/Foundation operating budget, net of management fees and direct income. These expenses support annual initiatives that helped raise $42.7 million (as of March, 2018) in additional funds for local programs beyond the Annual Campaign, including 1) $35.5 million for support foundations and philanthropic funds, 2) $5.7 million for restricted funds and planned giving vehicles, and 3) $1.3 million for PACE funds.

14. Agencies occupying space owned by the United Jewish Foundation (UFF) are required to pay fair market value for rent. Federation is providing an allocation to the agencies to pay this rent. UFF will then give Federation an allocation for the amount of the rent collected. (There are no cash exchange implications.) This process creates greater financial transparency.

15. Costs related to credit card fees.

16. Endowment fund matching grants supporting local agencies, synagogues, and programs.
