History

Congregation Beth Ahm was officially formed in 1977, after several synagogues merged together over the span of the twentieth century. The various synagogues and organizations that are included within a series indicate that they eventually merged into the remaining congregation.

Beth Abraham-Hillel

The earliest congregation was Beth Abraham, founded in 1892 and incorporated in 1918. Beth Abraham purchased a building on Winder in 1907, then moved to Palmer in 1923, Oakland Avenue in 1927. Beth Abraham was able to build a synagogue on Linwood in 1932, followed by another construction on 7 Mile in 1958. Finally, Beth Abraham built the synagogue on Maple Road in West Bloomfield, where Beth Ahm stands today. Beth Abraham is comprised of two other organizations that eventually affiliated themselves under the Beth Abraham name.

The First Galician Society of Detroit was organized in 1930 and incorporated in 1947. In 1957, the Society became affiliated with Beth Abraham. Similarly, in 1961, Beth Itzchock and its membership became affiliated under Beth Abraham.

Beth Hillel was originally known as Congregation Gemiluth Chassodim or Congregation Mutual Aid. The congregation filed both the Articles of Incorporation and Articles of Association in 1943. Until 1960, Beth Hillel held services at various locations around the city and in 1960, Beth Hillel built a synagogue on Greenfield in Detroit.

In 1971, Beth Abraham and Beth Hillel merged to form one congregation under the new name Beth Abraham-Hillel.

Beth Moses

Beth Moses was first organized as the Roumainian Fraternal Club in 1902 and about a year later the group purchased a house on Adelaide in Detroit for services. In 1926, Beth Moses was housed on Owen between Brush and Oakland and in 1950 built a synagogue on Linwood.

Evergreen Jewish Congregation was founded by a neighborhood. They held their first High Holy Day services in a home in 1951 and broke ground on their own building on Evergreen in 1958. In 1960, Evergreen Jewish Congregation merged and became part of Beth Moses.

In 1974, the leadership of Bnai Israel of Pontiac and Beth Moses agreed to merge. The merge became official in 1975 and formed Adat Israel-Moses. However, the congregations decided to dissolve in 1976, and did so officially in 1977. Beth Moses returned to its former and name.

Beth Ahm

In 1977, Beth Abraham-Hillel and Beth Moses officially merged to form Congregation Beth Abraham-Hillel Moses. The new congregation came together at the West Bloomfield location. In January 1983, a fire burned down a large portion of the synagogue. The congregation rebuilt over the next couple years and remained at that location. In 2000, the congregation changed its name to Congregation Beth Ahm, to mean “House of People.”

Scope and Content:

The collection is organized into 5 series: Beth Abraham-Hillel, Beth Moses, Beth Ahm, Photographs and Oversized.

Series I, Beth Abraham-Hillel (Boxes 1-2) contains material on Beth Abraham, Beth Hillel (formerly Gemiluth Chaddodim), Beth Itzchock, and First Galician Society of Detroit. These materials are correspondences, administrative files, meeting minutes and newsletters.

Series II, Beth Moses (Boxes 2-3) contains material on Beth Moses, Evergreen Jewish Congregation, and Adat Israel-Moses.

Series III, Beth Ahm (Boxes 3-5) contains the materials created from the merge of Beth Abraham-Hillel and Beth Moses to the most current documents.

Series IV, Photographs (Boxes 6-7) contains photographs from all synagogues and is ordered within the series by congregation.

Series V, Oversized (Boxes 8-9) contains scrapbooks, video tapes, plaques and Torah cover.

Arrangement

Folders are arranged by series in alphabetical order, then by chronological order.
